

Facilitator Training Workshop in the use of LEGO® Serious Play™ Materials and Methodology

LEGO® Serious Play™ is the powerful internationally renowned methodology used by organisations to engage all participants and allow them to generate innovative ideas for organisational improvement. Based on extensive research, the process enables teams to address complex issues in an engaging way.

Who should attend?

Facilitators, trainers, educators, HR professionals as well as project planning experts and strategists are able to be trained to implement this process in the work that they do. If you work as a researcher, an IT professional, an executive or life coach or as a leader of your organisation, this methodology brings enormous benefits and is a strong addition to your toolkit of techniques.

What are the training options?

| The type of program | What is suitable for |
|--------------------------|--|
| 1 day Foundation program | Attendance at this program will provide you with the skills to: Use the methodology in short applications or sessions such as induction, ice-breakers, recruitment interviews, brainstorming, meetings, project planning discussions, marketing or branding sessions. |

1 Day Foundation level Train the Trainer Programme

The 1 day program includes:

- Introduction to the theory that rests behind LEGO® Serious Play™ methodology including its history and research foundation drawn from the fields of business, organisational development, psychology and learning
- A hands-on, practical overview of the generic process of facilitation of LEGO® Serious Play™ within the framework of this methodology
- Introduction to the 3 core steps of LEGO® Serious Play™ – posing the question; building and giving meaning and telling and sharing the meaning
- Participation in the session with 'two hats' on to experience the power of LEGO® Serious Play™ as a participant and as a facilitator
- Techniques to ensure that all participants are engaged and in 'flow' and to support participants as they experience different comfort levels during a session
- Understand the role of the facilitator to move participants through the 3 core steps of the process for both individual model-building and for creating joint landscapes
- Develop a LEGO® Serious Play™ vocabulary and avoid the traps when facilitating
